

Holiday Greetings from the Stallion Station!

...your home away from home...

WINTERIZE YOUR HORSE:

- Blanket your horse! If you have supplied a blanket for your horse during the cold months, it will be used and removed as the weather dictates.
- Linda is using hot water daily for the horses to ensure they have a warm drink with breakfast & dinner.
- Warm mash is prepared on the especially cold days to supplement the hay feeding.
- All unclaimed blankets from the previous spring have been added to the "community pile" and will be used for barn emergencies.

GET UP TO SPEED:

This section will feature new stuff at the barn going forward. Just to get everyone on the same page to start, here are the new additions in recent months:

- Sheila Roo... you've all met Maggie's new protégé. Puppy training will be underway in the coming months.
- Ladybug... she came in as a foster dog and apparently isn't leaving. Surprised? I think not!
- Chicken project... know anyone who wants a beautiful banty rooster for Christmas? They are FREE to barn members!
- Dog Boarding... it's official. The Stallion Station is offering daily and long term dog boarding for $15/day per dog (more for larger breeds). Make your reservations today for the holidays... kennels are booking up fast!

STALLION STATION GOES DIGITAL

As we come to the end of the first decade of the new millennium, it is time for the Stallion Station to embrace new technology, mixed with the old world way of life that we all know and love about the barn. This newsletter marks the beginning of a new line of communication that will be used to spread the word to all barn members quickly for important events, notices, etc. Additionally, Phyllis has re-posted the website on-line. Yeah! You may want to bookmark that page on your browser and check back for updates.

Please be sure that Linda has your preferred email address for these newsletters and email notices, as we do not have a formal "opt out" program in place just yet. On a note of privacy, your email addresses will not be sold or abused... we promise. ☺
